COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS.

March 5, 1902
The board started today on a tour of inspection of roads and bridges, first visiting the bridge over the North river north of North Platte, thence along the roads to the mouth of the Birdwood, inspecting the bridge over the stream, then to the bridge over the North river north of Sutherland, all of which we found in fairly good condition, both roads and bridges, the bridges needing repairs only for wear and tear.

March 6, 1902
The board left Sutherland this morning inspecting the bridges over the South river, beginning with the bridge at Sutherland and ending with the one south of North Platte. The bridge at Sutherland being in excellent condition, the one at Hershey needing some new piling and the one south of North Platte needing considerable new planking. The roads visited were in very fine condition.

To county treasurer: In the collection of delinquent personal taxes, you are hereby ordered that in case no personal property of delinquent can be found, to commence suit by civil action in the district court of this county in the same manner as other civil actions are commenced, and prosecute the same to judgment and collection by attachment, execution or garnishment as the case may be required as directed by Chap. 77, Art. 1, Sec. 89, revised statutes of Nebraska.

JAS. S. ROBBINS,
M. L. MCCULLOUGH,
JOHN D. KELLEHER,
Co. Com.

Commissioner Robbins is hereby instructed to visit roads and bridges in the south part of the county and order such repairs as may be needed and make a report to this board at its next session of his action, also to ascertain the best disposition of the Lundy family and report the same to the poormaster.

Adjourned sine die.

BETWEEN THE RIVERS

The largest acreage of potatoes in years will be planted in this section of the valley this season if the seed can be produced.

Owing to the corn stalk disease among stock hundreds of acres of corn stalks in the valley were not fed down the past winter and the getting rid of them in other ways previous to cultivating the land this spring will be no small job.

Farmers are busy plowing and seeding at this time.

J. K. Eselman and family were guests of relatives at North Platte over Sunday.

James Sadle, who resided on the Hostetter farm recently sold to J. R. White, has leased the Hughes farm owned by the old canal company.

Raymond Miller and Clyde Eshleman have been marketing shelled corn at the county capital lately at sixty-five cents per bushel.

Dick Shinkle and crew are baling hay on the old Wetzel farm for Seeburger & Co.

A number of farm tenants have changed places of abode in this locality during the past two weeks.

A. B. Goodwin and D. M. Leopoldt were at the county seat on business the latter part of last week.

While the county commissioners were inspecting bridges in this vicinity last week, they ordered a carload of lumber of W. H. Hill, manager of the Hershey lumber yard with which to construct new bridges and repair old ones.

Ed Loveland, of North Platte, purchased a horse of Leonard Laubner and also one of J. M. C. Wood one day last week.

The revival meetings at Hershey are still in progress with a good attendance and active interest.

J. C. Gyger, manager of the Nichols creamery, was at the county seat with a fresh supply of butter for several of the merchants of that city on Saturday.

Ed Ewell, of the American beet sugar company of Grand Island, is in this vicinity contracting with parties for the growing of sugar beets the coming season.

W. A. Paxton will operate his ranch in the valley this season with hired help the same as last.

Presiding Elder Moore of North Platte conducted quarterly services at Hershey last Saturday and Sunday.

If you want to witness three busy men just look into A. A. Leister's blacksmith and repair shop at Hershey.

Gardening has been in full blast in this section for several days.

The acreage of small grain in the valley this season will be limited while that of corn will be greatly increased.

Thos. Cunnahan, B. & M. section foreman at Ravenna, was instantly killed in the yards at that place last Tuesday.

Saxton Allen Nuptials.

Wednesday night, March 5th, at the home of the bride's parents near Sutherland, Neb., in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, was solemnized the ceremony which united in hymen's holy bond Albert Saxton and Miss Alice Allen.

At eight o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor where Rev. C. P. W. Wimberly pronounced the mystic words which united the lives of two popular young people. The bride was handsomely dressed in gray and white and carried pink flowers, while the groom wore the conventional black. The bride was attended by her friend Miss Cora Sturges, of North Platte, who wore a handsome pink costume, and Geo. Allen, brother of the bride, officiated as best man.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room and enjoyed a very dainty wedding supper.

The happy couple received many useful and valuable presents as a testimonial of the high esteem in which they are held by their numerous friends.

Mrs. Saxton has lived in Sutherland nearly all her life, having attended school in North Platte and adjoining districts and by her lovable disposition has won a large circle of friends. Mr. Saxton is a prosperous young farmer of Greeley, Col. Mr. and Mrs. Saxton left for their home near Greeley the following afternoon with the best wishes of their many friends.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

The Dawson county papers report the sale of many tracts of land in that county. Among the sales were five quarter sections, which were sold for an aggregate of $13,900.

Work has begun on the new Union Pacific coal shutes at Lexington, which when completed will cost in the neighborhood of twenty thousand dollars. A gasoline engine will furnish the for power elevating the coal into the chutes.

During the month of March the three rural delivery routes out of Gothenburg collected and delivered nearly fourteen thousand pieces of mail. The routes were established March 1st and the showing for the first month is certainly creditable.

A carload of potatoes was received at Ogalalla last week and thereby the famine was relieved and the people are again eating three "squares" each day.

Ogalalla is having a siege of chicken-pox, small-pox or some similar disease, but as it is of an extremely mild form those afflicted suffer little inconvenience.

A Yates Center, Kansas, paper says that a man and a woman put up at a local hotel. When asked to register, the man wrote "W. E. R. Notman and wife, Nortrom, Mo." And the paper says the hotel proprietor did not catch onto the truth until the couple had paid their bill and gone.
